Crowds Throng the Senate Chamber

To Hear Edmunds Rail Against Withholding Official Papers from the Republicans.

Ex-Senator J. B. Chaffee and the Wife of Ex-Attorney General Brewster Die To-day.

WASHINGTON.

Senator Edmunds on the Floor To-day.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.

WASHINGTON, March 9.—Under the head of unfinished business, the senate took up the resolution reported by Mr. Edmunds, from the judiciary, condemning the attorney general for refusing to transmit the papers called for by the senate. The galleries were crowded to apparent discomfort, many persons being compelled to stand. Mr. Edmunds said it was in support of that calm and orderly constitutional exercise of the functions of government that he now addressed himself to these resolutions. It had been at least forty years since any occasion of this kind had arisen between the executive department of the government and the senate.

TWO MORE

Called to the Shore of Eternity.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.

NEW YORK, March 9.—A telegram has been received announcing the death at Purdee's station, Winchester county, of Ex-United States Senator Jerome B. Chaffee, father-in-law of Ulysses S. Grant. He died of acute meningitis.

The ex-senator will be buried at Adrian, Mich., beside his wife.

MRS. BREWSTER DEAD.

PHILADELPHIA, March 9.—The wife of Ex-Attorney General Brewster died at her residence this morning.

CINCINNATI, March 9.—Dr. James E. Ellis, president of the Lane theological seminary on Walnut hills, died suddenly this afternoon at his home.

In Memory of Grant.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.

ASBURY PARK, N. J., March 9.—The handsome window presented to the Library association by George W. Childs, of Philadelphia, in memory of General Grant, was unveiled last night. In the middle panel is a fine portrait of General Grant.

A Toledo Shooting.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.

TOLEDO, O., March 9.—A sensational shooting occurred yesterday into which investigation tends to deepen the mystery. The victim, Miss Emily French, was found dead in the residence of Mrs. John E. Parsons, on Bancroft street, where she had been employed for some time.

A Boom for Brewers.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.

EVANSVILLE, March 9.—A brewing company of this city, employing 100 men, has notified its employees that ten hours would hereafter constitute a day's work, instead of fifteen, and the present rate of wages will be maintained and all over time will be paid for.

Hard On the Guilty.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.

ALBANY, N. Y., March 9.—The railroad commission, investigating the Broadway Surface railroad in New York, report that the franchise was procured by bribery and urge that summary justice be meted to the guilty.

LOCAL CHAT

Picked Up Hereabouts by "The Sentinel" Courier.

Conductor Earhart, of Lafayette, has fallen heir to $10,000 in Texas.

During the three days ending Saturday night, the pension office issued 19,430 checks to pensioners, amounting to $555,126.38.

George Pate, trustee of Cass township, Ohio county, was "robbed" of about two thousand dollars in cash by highwaymen while on his way to attend a school meeting.

Lewis Goldman, a rag peddler, was arrested at Wabash for forging the name of Samuel Levy, a Peru merchant, to a due bill. He was lodged in jail, and will be taken to Peru.

Mrs. Martin Cunningham, an estimable lady residing in Shelbyville, while sweeping in front of her home yesterday morning, dropped dead from heart disease. She was sixty-three years of age.

At Muncie, at eight o'clock, the well-equipped railroad restaurant building and contents owned by Frank Anderson, were burned. Loss, about $1,800. Insured for $1,000 in the Firemen's, of Dayton.

George Rush, freight conductor on the Big Four, fell between the cars near Lafayette, on Saturday morning and broke an ankle. He saved his life by grasping the brake rod and pulling himself up to the top of the car.

The Huntington county agricultural society has elected Robert Simonton president; L. J. Brawley, vice-president; L. T. Bagley, secretary; Joseph G. Amis, treasurer, and D. C. Anderson, L. P. Milligan, C. C. Ellis, H. W. Stults and Samuel W. Scott, directors.

Frank and Otto Browning, of Brownstown, charged with fraudulently disposing of property of the former's wife, were arrested and taken to Seymour Thursday. They were arraigned in Justice Reeve's court and gave bond in the sum of $300 each for their appearance.

A few days ago a small, rickety box was shipped to Lafayette over the Kan-kakee line, addressed to "John Hunt, Lafayette, Ind." In moving it to make room for other freight the box burst open and the men were paralyzed to see a corpse. The body was in an advanced stage of decomposition. The box is without a claimant.

On Friday Judge Welborn, of the Gibson circuit court, set aside the $10,000 verdict and granted a new trial in the case of Oscar Baldwin vs. the Evansville and Terre Haute Railway company. The court held that it is not negligence to hire a man without instructing him in dangerous work unless he is without skill and experience.

The democratic primary at Brazil, for the purpose of choosing a postmaster, resulted in the choice of Lynch by a majority of twelve. There were five candidates voted for, viz.: Lynch, Sowers, Stewart, Siddons and Slough. The total vote cast was 565, of which Lynch received 136. Lynch is the present president of the board of county commissioners.

Joseph Binford, a wealthy Quaker farmer of Rush county, was assessed $4,000 damages, after a two days' trial of a charge of slander, preferred by Mrs. Amanda Young, residing in Hancock county. Mrs. Young was the housekeeper for a bachelor brother of the defendant, and the latter intimated to some neighbors that she and a hired man had occupied the same bed.

The jury in the case of Melinda Dennis, the Quaker woman on trial at Richmond for stabbing her husband with a butcher knife, retired at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, and Sunday night at 10 o'clock brought in a verdict of $500 fine and sixty days imprisonment in the county jail. The majority of the jury held out for imprisonment in the state reformatory for a number of years.

Henry Goens, colored, who was arrested at Seymour and taken to Terre Haute on Monday night, was put on trial the next day on the charge of stealing a feather bed from a widow. He was found guilty the same evening and sentenced to two years and a half in the state prison south, and was taken to that institution Saturday night. This is swift work. There are several other charges against him at Terre Haute.

Twenty-six of the recent subscribers of the Lafayette telephone exchange yesterday morning received the following notice dated Chicago: "You are hereby respectfully notified that the Central Union Telephone company elects to terminate your contract for telephone service in connection with its exchange at Lafayette, on March 31, in accordance with the provisions of said contract. The company will remove the instrument as soon after the termination of said contract as possible, and attending such removal no charge will be made for their use in connection with exchange service." The balance of the instruments, it is claimed, will be taken out July 1 and the exchange abolished.

Dr. Rogers, president of the Pan-electric Telephone company, and involved in the scandal touching that corporation, formerly lived in Indianapolis. He will be remembered as the publisher of the Central Catholic.

The report of the prison south, due some months ago, has been filed with the governor. The receipts for the year closing October 31, were $82,257, the expenditures $85,666.06; convicts 596, of whom fifty-one were for life.

Dr. H. Z. Leonard, late Greenback candidate for governor of Indiana, was arrested at Logansport on an indictment for stealing, which was found by the grand jury of Cook county, Ill. The man who claims to be victimized is one J. C. H. Buggle, or Ruggle, who sets forth that he was played to the tune of $200. Dr. Leonard, who has been conducting a branch office for Chicago bucket shop men, is confident that he can completely vindicate himself.

THE END NOT YET.

The Battle Against the Pennsylvania Relief Fund Continues—A Sketch of Manager C. E. Pugh.

The Pennsylvania Railroad company has decided that if it cannot insure all its employees it will not undertake to insure any of them. This will be a satisfaction to those organizations which have been beforehand in establishing mutual beneficial associations under their own control. It will, however, be unfortunate for the stragglers—the large body of unorganized employees who either from unthrift or lack of opportunity do not resolve themselves into self-protecting brotherhoods. It will also be unfortunate for the company, which loses the chance to make itself useful, and to tie to its fortunes by a bond of interest the whole body of men who keep its wheels moving. An official of the Pennsylvania lines says the opposition to the association was sprung and pushed ahead by the Brotherhood of Locomotive engineers, who had conceived the idea that this was a step taken by this gigantic corporation to undermine the Brotherhood association. The fact that the Pennsylvania railroad company proposed to pay its full share of the assessment made for the relief of employees seems to have cut no figure in the eyes of the opponents of the scheme. The opposition shown by employees to the Pennsylvania relief fund has kindled dissatisfaction among the employees of the Baltimore and Ohio, and they are looking around for some way to get out of their similar society. A bill will be introduced into the Maryland legislature compelling the company to refund to employees leaving its services, as an initiatory step, all payments made to the relief association.

Charles E. Pugh, general manager of the Pennsylvania lines east of Pittsburg, who has taken so much interest in the establishment of a Relief association, is but forty-five years old and has risen through every grade of promotion, won by ability and the force of his own talents, from a brakeman to his present responsible position. It is said that brakeman Pugh showed such marked ability in his then humble station that everybody on his train always tried to disembark by the steps where he officiated. He has also been a station agent, a passenger conductor, and in 1864, became the train dispatcher of the Philadelphia division. From 1870 to 1879 he was general agent of the Pennsylvania for Philadelphia, then became general superintendent, with headquarters at Altoona, and has been general manager since October 1, 1882.

The Southwestern Strike Comes This Way.

The St. Louis Bridge Forces Quit Their Places and Stop all Freight Business.

The Situation at Little Rock and Cairo—The Troubles Detailed Elsewhere.

STILL OUT.

The Strike in the Southwest Has Reached the St. Louis Bridge.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.

ST. LOUIS, March 9.—The most important and serious development of the strike is its extension to the yard and switchmen of the bridge and tunnel company. This move includes all the employees of the company, except engineers and firemen, superintendent of transfer, and three yardmasters, who will make an attempt to transfer as usual.

The significance of this departure can be better understood when it is known that 225 men are employed in handling traffic which passes over the bridge, and it is not possible for four men at each end of the bridge to throw switches and perform other duties incident to the business.

TRAFFIC STOPPED.

ST. LOUIS, March 9.—Freight traffic over the bridge is entirely suspended. All the passenger trains from the east and west have succeeded in starting out this morning, but all have been more or less delayed on account of the difficulty the few men in the yards and depot experience in making up trains.

OFFICE MEN PAID OFF.

ST. LOUIS, March 9.—The managers of the Missouri Pacific road have notified their clerks here that they were relieved from duty indefinitely. The order affects sixty telegraph operators and 200 office clerks.

CLEAR THE DEPOT.

LITTLE ROCK, March 9.—This morning the Iron Mountain railroad managers discharged twenty-five truckers, all the freight clerks and notified the transfer companies to clear the depot of all freight.

ALL QUIET.

CAIRO, March 9.—On the Mountain railroad no freight is being handled here or at Birds Point. Only one switchman remained at work in the yards at Birds Point. Passenger trains carrying mail will be run from here as usual. About eighty men, including the bridge carpenters struck last night.

AN ALL-NIGHT FIRE.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 9.—The company of soldiers guarding the convict camp at Greenwood mines, in Pulaski county, Ky., had a lively time last night. The free miners occupied the adjacent hills, and kept up a continual war all night. Shots were fired into the camp of the convicts, who were badly frightened, and the soldiers with guns kept guard until morning, when the miners disappeared.

A NEW SPOT.

TROY, N. Y., March 9.—On the street car lines between Troy, Lansingburg, Cohoes and Waterford the conductors and drivers numbering 300 were ordered on a strike by the Knights of Labor, because the company refused to make a new schedule of wages for extra men or "tripplers."

MINERS AT WORK.

PITTSBURG, March 9.—The miners at the Loyal Hanna works, at Latrobe, Pa., who struck yesterday for an increase of 15 per cent, returned to work to-day, the company conceding the advance.

A SUCCESS.

NEW YORK, March 9.—The strike of the carpenters and joiners has been very successful. Nearly all the employers have granted the demands of the men and the latter have begun work again under average wages of $3.50 per day of nine hours and eight hours on Saturday.

THE STUDEBAKER STRIKE.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., March 9.—Only the office men and a few foremen at the shops of Studebaker Bros., have been at work. The Studebakers held a conference and the Knights of Labor a meeting, but no plans have been made public.

High License.

BOSTON, March 9.—The board of police yesterday announced fees for liquor licenses for the coming year. In several classes the prices have been raised from $50 to $200. Dealers generally express great dissatisfaction.

LOCAL LINES.

Ed Hunsaker is at Chicago.

F. H. Abbott went to Boston last night.

The Wabash pay car arrived here this afternoon.

Very Rev. Father Brammer, of the Cathedral, is very sick.

Engineer R. Pitton, of the Nickel Plate, died this morning.

Mrs. August Beverford, sr., is very sick from inflammation of the bowels.

The "Black Hussar" went to Toledo this morning where they play to-night.

Thomas Roche, an attorney of Huntington, was in the city yesterday on legal business.

Cyrus Blystone and Drusilla Ottis and Daniel DeTurk and Anna Zinn have been licensed to wed.

Mayor Muhler let an old soldier go this morning. The veteran got full en route to the soldier's home.

Mrs. C. F. Lape, wife of the master mechanic of the Wabash shops at Springfield, Ill., was in the city yesterday.

The condition of Miss Henriette Nestel is to-day more encouraging and hopes are entertained of her speedy recovery.

Deputy Clerk Dan Souder, of the superior court, has returned from Ohio, where he attended the funeral of his mother.

The superior court jury has been ordered to return Monday, March 15, to hear the damage suit of Buerger vs. the Grand Rapids road.

Judge O'Rourke gave Perry A. Randall possession of real estate held by Ben F. Miller et al.; Dayton Alderman vs. Daniel J. Rhoades for $268.62; Jacob Strauss vs. Daniel Rhoades for $96.30.

The team of horses attached to Stoddard's pop wagon ran away on Calhoun street and broke down the sign post in front of the old Darrow house. The horses fell down and were somewhat injured, and the pop was scattered about promiscuously.

The only officers who escape the next county convention are Judges O'Rourke and Hench. The gentlemen do not come up for election until 1888. They are in no way interested in this campaign and a few papers seem to be ignorant of the fact.

The Sengerbund society give their annual masquerade ball at the Princess rink to-night. The masked knights will give a parade in the evening, headed by Prof. Spiegel's Germania band. Col. John George Strodel was out to-day working the pageant up.

The investments of the Pennsylvania railroad company in the securities of auxiliary lines west of Pittsburg amount at their par value to $132,658,746, and are represented on the books at a cost of $100,092,740. These investments produced in dividends and interest during the year 1885, $4,446,434, which sum was $366,327 in excess of the interest upon the entire funded indebtedness, exclusive of interest on car trust certificates. After all, the western feeders are not so much of an elephant on the parent line as may appear at first glance of the annual report of 1885.

Real Estate Transfers.

Olds Bros., real estate agents, room No. 8, Foster block, report the following recorded real estate transfers:

Perry McKinley to Sophia Bruner, by warranty deed, 40 acres in section 27, Washington township, for $2,000.

James D. Gault to George S. Gault, by warranty deed, undivided interest in 23 acres in section 26, Madison township, for $230.

Harriet N. Rodgers to Henry Fitzgerald, by warranty deed, 110 acres in section 19, Milan township, for $5,500.

The Pony and Dog Paradox.

The second performance of Professor Morris' Equine and Canine Paradox, at the Gillis last night, was witnessed by another large and well pleased audience, who manifested their approval by almost continuous laughter and applause. Some of the acts which these seemingly mind-endowed little animals perform are truly marvelous. For instance, the pantomime act of the clown dog, Major, and the professor is especially clever, and the visit of the dog family, Mr. and Mrs. Benedict, with baby Budgey, in full costume, is exorcistically funny. The prices of admission are only 15 and 25 cents with 25 cents extra for reserved seats.—Kansas City Times.

The Brutal Vincennes Murderers Exposed by a Member of the Gang.

The Minneapolis Ministers Declare Very Strongly Against All Sunday Newspapers.

THE GANG GONE.

The Vincennes Murderers in a Way to Hang.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.

VINCENNES, Ind., March 9.—John Lynch has made a confession and although its contents are strictly guarded by the authorities, it is understood he tells in detail all the crimes committed by the gang. In his story of the murder of Anderson Bruch, he says that the poor victim was shockingly tormented for eight hours and finally riddled with seventeen bullets. The confession will convict the entire party of murder in the first degree.

A BAD WRECK.

A Passenger Train Falls Twenty Feet.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.

WASHINGTON, C. H., O., March 9.—The accommodation train on the Dayton and Ironton railroad was wrecked at Paint Creek yesterday afternoon. The passenger and baggage cars fell down a twenty foot embankment into the creek. John Drake received injuries supposed to be fatal. Mrs. Jane Fultz, of Chillicothe, was badly burned. Four or five other passengers sustained painful but not serious injuries. A broken rail was the cause.

Ministers Against Sunday Papers.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., March 9.—The Ministers' association, composed of ministers from each of the churches in the city, passed resolutions yesterday to withdraw their patronage from papers published in or out of the city on Sunday.

At the Editorial Meeting.

[Auburn Courier.] While at Indianapolis last week attending the democratic editorial convention we were agreeably surprised to hear the universal good opinion prevailing in that body, as to our present member of congress, Hon. Robert Lowry. There was not one dissenting opinion, and coming as they did from men who reside in all parts of the state, who make politics a study, and nearly everyone of whom is of necessity free from any bias in the matter, we consider their opinions not only of great weight, but at the same time very flattering to our district. One editor went so far as to say, "he is to-day Indiana's strongest member of the house." These opinions were unsought, and came out in the way of general conversation in the hotel lobby and reading rooms. They were from men outside of our district who have no favors to ask, and who have neither received official favors at his hands, nor have been refused such favors. One man enthusiastically remarked: "If we had such men as Judge Lowry, we would be still stronger to-day than we are. He is a strong man and a clear headed one." Among the good opinions quoted was that of Governor Hendricks, who a short time before his death made the remark in the hearing of this gentleman, that Judge Lowry was the strongest man with the administration that Indiana had. We were glad to hear these testimonials to the acknowledged ability and fitness of the member from the old Twelfth.

CIVIL-SERVICE REFORM.

Civil-service reform comes hard, because the evils against which it is directed have been long entrenched in the body politic and can only be removed by heroic treatment. Because an abuse is of long standing, however, is no reason why it should be tolerated, and the assertion of such a principle is without rhyme or reason. Diseases which afflict the human body are not looked upon as blessings because long endured, nor should those which afflict the state be considered so. Everything which is inconsistent with the most perfect working of the body and government must be gotten rid of. Such, at least, is the belief of Mr. W. D. Murphy, of No. 310 Yandes street, Indianapolis, who has recently been cured of rheumatism of twenty-five years' standing by that great remedy, Athlophoros. Age gave the disease no charm in his eyes, and he swept it away at the first opportunity. He himself tells all about the matter in this way:

"My rheumatism dates way back about twenty-five years. I first contracted it in the war, in which I served four years and six months. After returning home from service the disease seemed to assume a periodical form. I would have at least two severe attacks every year, but even between these attacks I would suffer all the time. These attacks prevented me from getting about, and many times I could not walk or get out of bed. They would catch me in the legs so that after standing while I would feel suddenly weak and in danger of falling."

"Was it during one of these attacks that you used Athlophoros?" Mr. Murphy was asked.

"Yes; that's the time and that's when it did its work for me. I saw it advertised and sent to B. Brehm, the druggist on Columbia avenue, for a bottle. It was in the afternoon I took the first dose and then at night I took another. I slept soundly that night. The next morning when I awoke I had no pain. I took a few doses more, only using about two-thirds of a bottle altogether and my rheumatism was all gone. That is over a year ago and I have only felt a little twinge of the pain since, but nothing to speak of."

"Do you know of any others who have used Athlophoros?"

"Yes. I have recommended it to many different persons. My confidence was so great in the medicine that in several instances I have bought bottles of it and given them to people, saying at the time that if it did not do its work they need not pay for it; but there is not a single case in which I did not have my money within a week. There is Mrs. Wright, an aged lady of seventy, living a few miles from here, who, after suffering from rheumatic pains for fifteen years, was entirely rid of all pain by three or four bottles of Athlophoros. I recommended another lady, who was supposed to be suffering from dyspepsia, but who in reality had neuralgia of the stomach, to try Athlophoros, and it soon cured her. My neighbor, who had a severe attack of neuralgia, his face being swollen out of all shape, was cured by a few doses. My confidence in Athlophoros is very strong, and I believe that if any one suffering with rheumatism or neuralgia will take it right it will cure ninety-nine cases out of a hundred. It is worth $100 a bottle to every sufferer from rheumatism."

"If you cannot get Athlophoros of your druggist, we will send it to you on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed. Write to J. H. Thompson, Co., 112 Wall Street, New York."

TUESDAY, MARCH 9, 1886.

SUSAN B. ANTHONY claims to have twenty-six Senators on her list who are in favor of woman suffrage. This sounds encouraging, but it is possible, barely possible, that twenty or so of these Senators have been dealing out taffy to the guileless Susan.

COLONEL PREJEVALSKY'S facts throw Jules Verne's fancies into the shade. This famous Russian traveler has fought his way through Mongolia and Thibet with a party of seventeen soldiers and a host of other attendants, spent 43,000 rubles, killed 400 people who barred his way, given a number of Russian names to places nominally in the dominions of the Empire of China, and shown the portrait of the White Czar to enraptured crowds of Mongolians longing to be taken under his protection.

The silver question is one in which Judge Stanley Matthews is much interested. He said on that subject recently: "The banks and moneyed interests of Wall street who persist in discrediting silver are only kicking against the pricks. It was the silver question that caused them to make such an onslaught on me. But the silver question has got away from the East and from Wall street, and they must eventually be obliged to look recognized facts in the face and treat silver on a parity with gold."

The Princess of Wales had a narrow escape from the recent London mob. She was in an open carriage, and was driving past Apsley House, when the mob advanced upon the carriage, as they did upon every one that came in their way. Her Royal Highness was recognized by some of those in the crowd, and amid cries against her, several hundred men ran yelling after the carriage until it was driven swiftly into Hyde Park. The worst that would have happened to the Princess would probably have been to be dispossessed of her carriage and compelled to walk through the jostling crowd amid insulting remarks.

East and West the horsemanship in the hands of a lady seems to be coming prominently to the front again. Miss Hendricks, out West, publicly horse-whipped a man who slandered her. Miss Lucy Cornish, the daughter of a wealthy man in Millston, N. J., received an insulting valentine. She traced the matter up, and found it had been sent by Mr. Harkins, a law student. She waited at the postoffice for him in her carriage, and when he appeared, thrashed him severely. Every blow on his face left its mark. The young man ran into a store screaming with pain. He finally climbed out of a window, and took the first train for Boston.

An exciting incident occurred at a place of amusement in Berlin. A company of Indians were engaged there in charge of a European well acquainted with Indian life. After the performances of the evening were over the Indians began to execute together one of their tribal dances—the eagle or winter dance—on the occasion of a religious festival. It is the custom among the krie to which they belong that if any one participating in this dance stumble or fall he shall be put to death by the ordinary mode of tomahawking. During the dance the youngest member of the party—by name Pook-Pook—made an unlucky slip and fell. Instantly the chief rushed upon him, seized him firmly as he laid prostrate, and, raising his tomahawk, prepared to give the blow which would soon have sent the unfortunate man scapless into the happy hunting ground. The European, who was with the company, and who was watching the ceremonies, speedily interposed, and under threat of penal consequences compelled the Indian to forego his sanguinary purpose. The fallen man was released but his deliverance did not appear to be greatly valued by him, since he remarked to his rescuer that sooner or later he would have to pay for his false step with death, his fellow-dancers being bound to take his life either in Europe or in their own land.

ISAAC WYATT went to Bosherville Gardens, near London, and while there was feeding a bear in a cage. He turned to speak to a friend, and the bear seized his hand. An attendant tried to beat it off, when the animal crushed the bones in a horrible manner. Wyatt was awarded $2,000 damages.

The New York Central Railroad seems not to be very popular in the district through which it passes. The fare from Syracuse to Memphis is 26 cents, which is 2 cents over the legal rate. Eight suits for the recovery of this 2 cents overcharge were decided against the railroad. The road in each case had to pay back the 2 cents and the little additional sum of $80 fine, together with $30 costs. This makes the affair about as expensive a 2-cent investment as any railroad ever made. Three hundred fresh suits on the same theme have been started. One would think that even a railroad would be two centsible to commit petty illegal acts like overcharging.

HENRY M. STANLEY, who now has an intercontinental railroad on hand for Africa, spends, says Correspondent King, "all his time nowadays in receiving and dismissing the dozens of delegations which come to him from all parts of Great Britain with offers of capital and advice, and of sympathy relative to the new free state. A noble duke drops in on him in the morning, and a Manchester millionaire in the afternoon—the one to say that a narrow-gauge road will never do, the other to insist that it is just the thing." Mr. Stanley remains the representative of the Belgian King, and though he will not return to the Congo for some time, he is practically the shaper and molder of the wonderful model of a state set up by the consensus of diplomacy and capital.

A good story is now going around the Irish circles in the House of Commons. "Joe" Biggar, the member for Cavan, and the famous author of "Obstruction," was mulcted in $400 damages a few years ago for having failed to marry Miss Fanny Ayland, a young Irish girl resident in Paris. Mr. Biggar is rich, and the fine did not weigh upon him. A month ago an aristocratic English member wrote him, saying he had thought over the verdict ever since, and had come to the conclusion it was outrageously unjust. "As an earnest of this, I inclose a check for $400," he continued. "Joe" wrote back a letter: "Glad to find that one Englishman sympathized with a wronged Irishman." When he went to get the check cashed there was no money to meet it. And now he says he can't see the joke of the Saxon.

EDUCATED AND EXPERIENCED. Hood's Sarsaparilla is prepared by C. I. Hood & Co., apothecaries, Lowell, Mass., who have a thorough knowledge of pharmacy, and many years practical experience in the business. It is prepared with the greatest skill and care, under the direction of the men who originated it. Hence Hood's Sarsaparilla may be depended upon as a thoroughly pure, honest and reliable medicine.

MILITARY DRUNKENNESS.

After showing, for many years in succession, a tendency to decrease, military drunkenness has latterly taken something of a change for the worse. In 1872, the earliest year of which full details are given in the general annual return, the total number of men fined was 26,111, the number of fines inflicted was 51,501, and the percentage of fines per 1,000 men 281. From that time until 1880 a steady and almost continuous decrease went on, the percentage falling to 225. In the following year, however, there was a rise to 243, and this figure has been maintained ever since. It appears that the firing system does not exercise much deterrent effect on the "habitual-drunkard" class—that is, those who are drunk four times or more within twelve calendar months. In 1884, the last year dealt with in the table, 1,418 men were fined four times, 779 five times, 379 six times, 180 seven times, 57 eight times, and 29 nine times. No doubt, too, most of these tapers often escape undetected, so that the figures do not give a complete picture of the hard drinking still unfortunately so prevalent in the army. It seems open to question whether an experiment should not be tried with some other form of punishment than fines, in cases where the latter method has proved ineffectual as a deterrent. The "habitual-drunkard" is not only a bad character in himself, but his pernicious example exercises a most injurious effect among the younger soldiers. London Globe.

Friends, citizens, countrymen: "Hear me for my cause, and be silent that you may hear." Now, before Jupiter Tonans and all the gods at once, I do solemnly affirm that Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup is an infallible remedy for all lung and bronchial disorders. If there is any man present who disputes this proposition, "let him now speak, or else hereafter forever hold his peace."

DR. A. C. HOXSE'S CERTAIN CROUP CURE.—This preparation, a private and original prescription, was extensively used in an unlimited practice for many years, with perfect success by the late A. C. Hoxse, M. D., of Buffalo, N. Y. Having thoroughly tested and tried this remedy, he had no hesitation in pronouncing it positive, swift and sure to cure Croup in its most aggravated form, when administered promptly and according to directions. Its powerful and direct effect upon the diseased mucous membrane, renders it particularly invaluable to those living at a distance from a physician—as it is seldom necessary to call in professional aid. If the "Certain Croup Cure" is near at hand, the powerful and effectual, it contains no opium in any form, nor any drug which can have a deleterious or injurious effect upon the system. The most delicate infant may take it, as directed, with perfect safety. Price $1.00. For sale by all first-class druggists, wholesale and retail. dec22—edaw3m

TAKE—SIMMONS LIVER REGULATOR

For all Diseases of the Liver, Kidneys, Stomach and Spleen.

This purely vegetable preparation, now so celebrated as a Family Medicine, originated in the South in 1828. It acts gently on the Bowels and Kidneys and corrects the action of the Liver, and is, therefore, the best preparatory medicine, whatever the sickness may prove to be. In all cases it will, unassisted by any other medicine, effect a speedy cure.

The Regulator is safe to administer in any condition of the system, and under no circumstances can it do harm. It will invigorate like a glass of wine, but is no intoxicating beverage to lead to intemperance; will promote digestion, dissipate headache, and generally tone up the system. The dose is small, not unpleasant, and its virtues undoubted.

No loss of time, no interruption or stoppage of business while taking the Regulator. Children complaining of Colic, Headache, or Sick Stomach, a teaspoonful or more will give relief. If taken occasionally by patients exposed to Malaria, it will expel the poison and protect them from attack.

A PHYSICIAN'S OPINION.
I have been practicing medicine for twenty years, and have never been able to put up a vegetable compound that would, like Simmons Liver Regulator, promptly and effectively move the Liver to action, and at the same time aid (instead of weakening) the digestive and assimilative powers of the system. The Black Hussar.
One of the most fashionable and appreciable assemblies that ever graced the interior of the Temple was present last evening to witness the first production of "The Black Hussar" (Der Feldprediger) in this city, by the McCaull Opera company. Musically it is not as simple nor as catchy as the average comic opera, but abounds in numerous absurdities, which were warmly greeted by the large audience. As the principals came on in turn it was seen that the cast was exceptionally good, no one deserving more praise than the other in their respective roles. The pretty chorus girls, attired in their dark uniforms, presented a fine appearance, and should have gone through the military drill, which they do to perfection. "Read the Answer in the Stars," by Messrs. DeWolf Hopper and Boniface and Miss Reynolds, brought down the house. The company did not use their scenery, but sent it ahead for other dates.

Bennett Matlack.
The immense attendance at the Temple last night accounted largely for the rather medium sized audience which greeted the Bennett Matlack company at the Academy. "A Celebrated Case" was put on and the parts were well sustained. Mr. Matlack assumed the role of Jean Renaud, and was ably seconded by Miss Stella Rees as Adrienne. The support was evenly balanced and a very clean and smooth performance was given. Tonight "Hamlet," the masterpiece of Shakespeare and the idol of all tragedians, will be given. Of Mr. Matlack's "Hamlet," the Albany Argus says: "In appearance he fills the character perfectly, and the most captious critic could find no fault with his ready splendid business. He reminds one somewhat of Keene, one of the best of modern Hamlets, and approaches him more closely than any other actor we know of. The Ophelia of Miss Stella Rees was a most charming performance. Her presence and manner are fully in accord with the exigencies of this most sweet and lovable of Shakespeare's heroines."

I had not taken three doses of Athlaphora for inflammatory rheumatism before I was better and I have been improving ever since. I am satisfied it is the best remedy for rheumatism there is to be had. G. Lookwood, Millbrook, Ill.
If you want to laugh as you never laughed before, go and see Prof. Morris' dogs and Ponies at the Masonic Temple to-morrow night. Admission 15, 25 and 50 cents.

THE CITY.

Hamlet to-night.
Bock beer is blooming.
This is styled Shrove Tuesday.
Paradox to-morrow night, at the Temple.
The city council meets to-night in regular session.
New lettuce, radishes and onions are in the market.
Sheriff Nelson is posting the township election notices.
The child of Mr. and Mrs. Grosvener is ill with lung fever.
Frank Cosgrove is west in the interest of his patent right business.
Miss Ella Richards, of Fort Wayne, is visiting friends in Lafayette.
The semi-annual session of the grand lodge I. O. O. F. occurs in May.
J. S. Rinehart, of Rome City, is working for a Fort Wayne wholesale house.
Rev. M. H. Paynter concluded his Bible readings at Warsaw on Sunday night.
Mrs. T. E. Aborn left yesterday to spend a few days with relatives at Etna Green, Ind.
G. E. Mayfield, of this city, is registered as a Florida tourist by the Indianapolis Times.
Mrs. J. D. Leighty, of St. Joe, DeKalb county, is in the city, the guest of her sister, Mrs. E. S. Philley.
Miss Stella Rees, with Bennett Matlack, has the reputation of being one of the best leading women on the stage.
Decorations day will this year fall upon Sunday. It is to be hoped the day will be more generally observed than heretofore.
H. D. Compton was injured on the Pittsburg road at Valparaiso, yesterday, and J. D. North had his arm pinched at Van Wert.
A brakeman named Buseker, while making a coupling on the Nickel Plate yesterday, had the fingers of his right hand pinched off.
Arnest Breimeyer and Fred Bandt received the contract for the new brick house of August Becker, on Williams street. The structure will cost $4,000.
The will of John George Kaiser, late of Madison township, was offered for probate. He gives his 145 acre farm to his wife. His son is named as executor.
The cottage meeting of the R. R. Y. M. C. A. will be held this evening at the residence of J. S. Brittingham, 33 Madison street. A cordial invitation is extended to all.
John Ross, ticket agent of the Pittsburg and Richmond roads, went to-day to Geneva to make arrangement with about twenty farmers to go to California this spring.
Miss Sarah E. Fordney, sister of G. M. Fordney, died at the residence of her brother, 197 Montgomery street, yesterday morning at 8 o'clock. The remains were taken to Urbana, Ohio, this afternoon.
Professor Morris' dogs are taken about the city in a carriage, and enjoy the situation. They are quartered at the bus barn and Mr. Abe Barnett looks daggers in the direction of the howling kennel.
Col. C. E. Briant, of Huntington, celebrated the anniversary of his birth the other day and his workmen gave him a handsome upholstered arm chair. The colonel's comrades in Fort Wayne will like to hear of this.
C. D. Meigs, of Indianapolis, will give a free lecture to Sunday school workers, Tuesday evening, March 16, in the First Presbyterian church. Subject: "How to Fail and How to Succeed in Sunday School Work." Sunday school teachers should be sure to hear this.
Indiana consistory, S. P. R. S., in the valley of Indianapolis, will hold its annual convocation on the 23d, 24th and 25th of the present month. Everything indicates a large class and a most enjoyable reunion. The attendance will probably exceed that of any other meeting.
"Several days ago Eli Greensfelder missed $400 worth of diamonds from his house. He commenced a search for the valuable property and yesterday found them in an ash barrel at his residence, considerably damaged by heat. Eli now scratches his head every hour in the day and wonders how his diamonds got in that dirty old barrel," says the Logansport Pharos of a former Fort Wayne citizen.
"Roy," the Fort Wayne correspondent of the Warsaw Indianian-Republican, says Judge Robert Lowry, the congressman from the Fort Wayne district, the following compliment: "He (Lowry) is a man of marked ability, and has always been at his post upon the floors of the house, watching the interests of his constituency and attending to his duties." Judge Lowry is a hard working congressman and a man of great ability. Such men wield influence in congress and ought to be kept there, adds the Valparaiso Messenger.

Mr. Clarence Cook will not sell the World.
Hamlet at the Academy to-night, at popular prices.
Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Ross are visiting friends at Grand Rapids.
John Moring had three fingers cut off at the spoke factory yesterday.
Hon. Isaac Jenkinson, of the Richmond Palladium, was in the city last evening.
Rev. D. S. Kennedy has accepted the call to the pastorate of the Third Presbyterian church.
The new Grand Rapids and Indiana shops at the south yard, Grand Rapids, will cost $25,000.
"A Celebrated Case," was repeated at the Academy this afternoon. It will be given again later in the week.
C. B. Stuart, of Lafayette, attorney for the Wabash, St. Louis and Pacific railway company, is at the Aveline.
Mr. Newton Burwell, formerly of Fort Wayne, delivered a temperance lecture at Huntington last night. Mr. Burwell resides at Bluffton.
To-night Hamlet will be presented at the Academy by the Bennett Matlack combination. Mr. Matlack appears as Hamlet and Miss Stella Rees as Ophelia.
Edward Ingersoll, secretary of the national association of the R. R. Y. M. C. A., is in the city shaking hands with his many friends. He will remain here until to-morrow night.
Wayne Lodge No. 14, I. O. O. F., today sold their lot at the corner of Berry and Harrison streets, to Hon. L. M. Ninde, for $6,000. This lodge lately bought a lot on Calhoun street.
D. A. Waterman, auditor of the Central railroad, of Detroit, Rev. E. L. Stetson, of Logansport, and Rev. A. Blackburn, of Lafayette, were here this morning in council with S. A. Northrop, of this city, regarding the Baptist ministers' home.
C. D. Meigs, of Indianapolis, will give a free lecture to Sunday school workers on Tuesday evening, March 16th, in the First Presbyterian church; subject: "How to Fail and How to Succeed in Sunday School Work." Sunday school teachers should be sure to hear this.
Lovers of the "legitimate" will have plenty of opportunity to ponder to their tastes at the Academy during the next two weeks. Beginning with "A Celebrated Case" to-night, the next nineteen performances will consist of the heaviest melo-dramas and Shaksperian tragedies.
Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Daniels entertained the Young People's society, of the Christian church, very pleasantly last night. A feature of the occasion was the violin selections of Miss Linnie Rich. The society meets again Friday evening at the residence of Rev. Slade, 87 West Jefferson street.
Hon. M. P. Brady will lecture on the "Irish Question" at Library hall St. Patrick's evening. The gentleman is one of the most eloquent talkers in the west and the Chicago papers speak of his coming here in very complimentary terms. The tickets are going fast and seats will be scarce towards the last.
The Third Presbyterian church people are a happy set. Their session has been notified of Rev. D. S. Kennedy's acceptance of their call, begiving them the preference over five other invitations. They expect him to begin work with them about April 18. A letter from him to the congregation will be read on Wednesday evening.
A number of Knights of Pythias of this city have received an invitation to attend the dedication of the new Pythian Temple at Richmond on Thursday, March 18th. The program as arranged for the occasion will include a street parade by all Knights, followed by the dedication ceremonies. In the evening a grand banquet will take place.
Solon Humphreys and Thomas E. Tutt, receivers of the Wabash railroad, have filed a report of the operations of their trust for the three months ending February 28, in the federal court, which shows: Balance on hand December 1, $156,959.90; receipts, $4,760,257.71; total, $4,917,217.91; expenses, $482,203.43; balance on hand, $89,187.18.
The Washington dispatches have stated that the bill to increase the salaries of Judge Woods and other federal court judges to $5,000 a year failed to pass the house judiciary committee. Representative Collins, of Boston, a member of the committee, has written to John E. Lamb that the bill did pass the committee and will undoubtedly pass the house and become a law, as it has already passed the senate.
Prospects for a heavy business over the Wabash road have been somewhat blighted by the strikes on the Jay Gould lines of late. Jay Gould, with his southwestern system and the Wabash, has been diverting the bulk of the east-bound grain shipments from Nebraska and Kansas points from the regular pool lines by taking it from Hannibal and St. Louis to Toledo, where it will be ready to move with the opening of navigation. But the strike, it is thought, will more or less interfere with his program. General Master Mechanic Barnes says that the strike will not spread to the Wabash as affairs on that line are satisfactory to the Knights of Labor.

Mrs. Eva Harter, of Wabash, well known in this city, attended the opera last evening.
John G. Kaiser, a well known farmer in Madison township, died Saturday and will be buried to-morrow.
There will be services at the Second Presbyterian church this evening at 7:30 o'clock. You are cordially invited.
Mr. C. H. Miller has just received from Texas four dozen young quail, which he will set free as soon as the weather will permit.
Mr. E. H. Hunsaker received to-day through C. H. Miller the handsomest gun ever brought to this city. It is of the hammerless pattern, and is valued at $160.
The billiard contest for the championship medal, between the present holder, Mr. E. H. Hunsaker, and Mr. Dink Trentman, will take place at the Home to-morrow evening.
The Pirouette club gave its final reception at the Fox parlors last night. Mr. P. J. Fallon managed the affair and it was very pleasant. A nice supper was served at midnight.
To-morrow being Ash Wednesday, there will be services at Trinity Episcopal church as follows: At 10:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Also on Friday evening, at 7:30. All cordially invited.
The indications for the lower lake region, as reported by the weather bureau at Washington to THE SENTINEL, are as follows: Colder westerly winds, slight snows, followed by fair weather.
Hon. E. Henderson, chairman of the democratic state central committee, was in the city last evening to urge careful attention to the township elections and the necessity of nominating good candidates.
Judge Haynes called the celebrated Little River ditch case this morning and the trial was resumed with Ditch Commissioner Shoaff on the witness stand. The costs in this case amount to some $5,000 and if the drain is not established the petitioners will have to pay this sum or all the costs and they are likely to be much more than the estimate above. The Wabash Railroad company and many Huntington county people have withdrawn objections to the Little River ditch, but the case progresses against the others.
Mr. W. W. Rockhill received a telegram from St. Louis, last night, admitting the Northern Indiana Fair association to the great western circuit. All the other associations had already voted in favor of Fort Wayne and the consent of St. Louis made the matter unanimous. This places the Fair association on a footing with the great cities of the west, and as it follows Columbus and Toledo it will have the finest stock exhibition and the best field of horses ever seen in Indiana. The Fort Wayne fair occurs from September 14 to 17, 1886.
On yesterday an unknown negro broke into the residence of a farmer named Reed, near the Bootjack and carried away a number of articles of little value. From there he was next heard of at the residence of George Hite, who lives about two miles east of Maples. He gained admission to the house by raising a window and without alarming the family succeeded in gathering up $58 in cash and some valuable articles. He was seen to board a Pittsburg train west bound, and before to-morrow it is thought he will be safely lodged in jail at Fort Wayne.

ACT IV.
Manager John A. McCaull in the Courts with Syd. Rosenfeld over the Black Hussar.
While the elite and fashionable were last night witnessing the presentation of Mollicker's "Black Hussar" by the John A. McCaull opera comique company, little did they dream that Col. McCaull was in the Philadelphia courts, striving to prevent Sydney Rosenfeld from obtaining an injunction to stay its further production. Rosenfeld, the musical composer, and Herman Nunnemacher, of Milwaukee, have been harassing the McCaull company, and they sent telegrams to Manager Simonson, asking him to refuse the opera a date at the Temple. No attention was paid to the matter, and tiring of the abuse, Mr. McCaull went into court yesterday and testified that Rosenfeld had been in his employ at different times, the last time from about the middle of October, 1884, until the last week in April, 1885. Rosenfeld was in the employ of McCaull up to within three days of the production of the "Black Hussar," which was translated by him for the witness in the line of his employment. It was first produced on the 1st of May at Wallack's theatre, in New York, and it ran one hundred and four nights. The company went to Cincinnati, after that to Milwaukee and then to Chicago, and Rosenfeld undertook to stop the production by injunction in these cities, as he had done in New York, and failed. He claimed the right to everything in connection with the "Black Hussar." After a series of harassments Mr. Rosenfeld went to the witness and asked him for $500 to get his "Mikado" company out of town. The witness said he would give him $500 in consideration of his withdrawing all claim to the "Black Hussar." Mr. Rosenfeld said he would do it with the consent of Mr. Nunnemacher. After Mr. Rosenfeld had seen Mr. Nunnemacher the former came to the witness and said: "Will you give me $600?" and the witness replied: "I will not give you six hundred cents." Mr. Rosenfeld then replied: "We will follow you wherever you go and bring suit against you." Since then he had sent telegrams to different cities stating that he would hold the managers responsible if they permitted the "Black Hussar" to be played. The judge held Rosenfeld for malicious prosecution, and he was remanded late last night for trial before a jury.

THE EVE
Of the Season of Fast and Prayerful Reflection.
Ash Wednesday, the first of the forty days' fast, comes to-morrow and the society people will gladly avail themselves of the rest which custom enforces upon the gay world, and though a strict observance of the Lenten season is not observed by all churches, people generally welcome it with a sigh of relief and regard it as a preparation for the great anniversaries of Christ's crucifixion and resurrection and a tribute to the Savior's fast of forty-days. The Catholic church holds vespers services twice a week and the Episcopal and Lutheran denominations observe lent as a penitential season. Lent is preceded in most Christian countries by dissipation and high carnival, even in Fort Wayne we will have a taste of the revelry to-night. To-morrow the people who make merry to-night will don monastic habiliments and look as serene and solemn as a sage. So runs life and the story of the frailty of mankind.
"That tired feeling" from which you suffer so much, particularly in the morning, is entirely thrown off by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

To Hear Edmunds Rail Against Withholding Official Papers from the Republicans.

Ex-Senator J. B. Chaffee and the Wife of Ex-Attorney General Brewster Die To-day.

WASHINGTON.

Senator Edmunds on the Floor To-day.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.

WASHINGTON, March 9.—Under the head of unfinished business, the senate took up the resolution reported by Mr. Edmunds, from the judiciary, condemning the attorney general for refusing to transmit the papers called for by the senate. The galleries were crowded to apparent discomfort, many persons being compelled to stand. Mr. Edmunds said it was in support of that calm and orderly constitutional exercise of the functions of government that he now addressed himself to these resolutions. It had been at least forty years since any occasion of this kind had arisen between the executive department of the government and the senate.

LOCAL CHAT

Picked Up Hereabouts by "The Sentinel" Courier.

Conductor Earhart, of Lafayette, has fallen heir to $10,000 in Texas.

During the three days ending Saturday night, the pension office issued 19,430 checks to pensioners, amounting to $555,128.38.

George Pate, trustee of Cass township, Ohio county, was "robbed" of about two thousand dollars in cash by highwaymen while on his way to attend a school meeting.

Lewis Goldman, a rag peddler, was arrested at Wabash for forging the name of Samuel Levy, a Peru merchant, to a due bill. He was lodged in jail, and will be taken to Peru.

Mrs. Martin Cunningham, an estimable lady residing in Shelbyville, while sweeping in front of her home yesterday morning, dropped dead from heart disease. She was sixty-three years of age.

At Muncie, at eight o'clock, the well-equipped railroad restaurant building and contents owned by Frank Anderson were burned. Loss, about $1,800. Insured for $1,000 in the Firemen's, of Dayton.

George Ruesh, freight conductor on the Big Four, fell between the cars near Lafayette, on Saturday morning and broke an ankle. He saved his life by grasping the brake rod and pulling himself up to the top of the car.

The Huntington county agricultural society has elected Robert Simonson president; L. J. Brawley, vice-president; L. T. Bagley, secretary; Joseph G. Amies, treasurer, and D. C. Anderson, L. P. Milligan, C. C. Ellis, H. W. Stults and Samuel W. Scott, directors.

Frank and Otto Browning, of Brownstown, charged with fraudulently disposing of property of the former's wife, were arrested and taken to Seymour Thursday. They were arraigned in Justice Reeve's court and gave bond in the sum of $300 each for their appearance.

A few days ago a small, rickety box was shipped to Lafayette over the Kanawha line, addressed to "John Hunt, Lafayette, Ind." In moving it to make room for other freight the box burst open and the men were paralyzed to see a corpse. The body was in an advanced stage of decomposition. The box is without a claimant.

On Friday Judge Welborn, of the Gibson circuit court, set aside the $10,000 verdict and granted a new trial in the case of Oscar Baldwin vs. the Evansville and Terre Haute Railway company. The court held that it is not negligence to hire a man without instructing him in dangerous work unless he is without skill and experience.

The democratic primary at Brazil, for the purpose of choosing a postmaster, resulted in the choice of Lynch by a majority of twelve. There were five candidates voted for, viz.: Lynch, Sowers, Stewart, Siddons and Slough. The total vote cast was 505, of which Lynch received 136. Lynch is the present president of the board of county commissioners.

Joseph Binford, a wealthy Quaker farmer of Rush county, was assessed $4,000 damages, after a two days' trial of a charge of slander, preferred by Mrs. Amanda Young, residing in Hancock county. Mrs. Young was the housekeeper for a bachelor brother of the defendant, and the latter intimated to some neighbors that she and a hired man had accepted the same bed.

The jury in the case of Melinda Dennis, the Quaker woman on trial at Richmond for stabbing her husband with a butcher knife, retired at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, and Sunday night at 10 o'clock brought in a verdict of $500 fine and sixty days imprisonment in the county jail. The majority of the jury held out for imprisonment in the state reformatory for a number of years.

Henry Goens, colored, who was arrested at Seymour and taken to Terre Haute on Monday night, was put on trial the next day on the charge of stealing a feather bed from a widow. He was found guilty the same evening and sentenced to two years and a half in the state prison south, and was taken to that institution Saturday night. This is a swift work. There are several other charges against him at Terre Haute.

Twenty-six of the recent subscribers of the Lafayette telephone exchange yesterday morning received the following notice dated Chicago: "You are hereby respectfully notified that the Central Union Telephone company elects to terminate your contract for telephone service in connection with its exchange at Lafayette, on March 31, in accordance with the provisions of said contract. The company will remove the instrument as soon after the termination of said contract as possible, and attending such removal no charge will be made for their use in connection with exchange service." The balance of the instruments, it is claimed, will be taken out July 1 and the exchange abolished.

Dr. Rogers, president of the Pan-electric Telephone company, and involved in the scandal touching that corporation, formerly lived in Indianapolis. He will be remembered as the publisher of the Central Catholic.

The report of the prison south, due some months ago, has been filed with the governor. The receipts for the year closing October 31, were $82,257, the expenditures $85,666.06; convicts 598, of whom fifty-one were for life.

Dr. H. Z. Leonard, late Greenback candidate for governor of Indiana, was arrested at Logansport on an indictment for stealing, which was found by the grand jury of Cook county, Ill. The man who claims to be victimized is one J. C. H. Buggle, or Ruggle, who sets forth that he was played to the tune of $200. Dr. Leonard, who has been conducting a branch office for Chicago bucket shop men, is confident that he can completely vindicate himself.

THE END NOT YET.

The Battle Against the Pennsylvania Relief Fund Continues—A Sketch of Manager C. E. Pugh.

The Pennsylvania Railroad company has decided that if it cannot insure all its employees it will not undertake to insure any of them. This will be a satisfaction to those organizations which have been beforehand in establishing mutual beneficial associations under their own control. It will, however, be unfortunate for the stragglers—the large body of unorganized employees who either from untimely or lack of opportunity do not resolve themselves into self-protecting brotherhoods. It will also be unfortunate for the company, which loses the chance to make itself useful, and to tie to its fortunes by a bond of interest the whole body of men who keep its wheels moving. An official of the Pennsylvania line says the opposition to the association was sprung and pushed ahead by the Brotherhood of Locomotive engineers, who had conceived the idea that this was a step taken by this gigantic corporation to undermine the Brotherhood association. The fact that the Pennsylvania railroad company proposed to pay its full share of the assessment made for the relief of employees seems to have no figure in the eyes of the opponents of the scheme. The opposition shown by employees to the Pennsylvania relief fund has kindled dissatisfaction among the employees of the Baltimore and Ohio, and they are looking around for some way to get out of their similar society. A bill will be introduced into the Maryland legislature compelling the company to refund to employees leaving its services, as an initiatory step, all payments made to the relief association.

Charles E. Pugh, general manager of the Pennsylvania line east of Pittsburgh, who has taken so much interest in the establishment of a Relief association, is but forty-five years old and has risen through every grade of promotion, won by ability and the force of his own talents, from a brakeman to his present responsible position. It is said that Brakeman Pugh showed such marked ability in his then humble station that everybody on his train always tried to disembark by the steps where he officiated. He has also been a station agent, a passenger conductor, and, in 1884, became the train dispatcher of the Philadelphia division. From 1870 to 1879 he was general agent of the Pennsylvania for Philadelphia, then became general superintendent, with headquarters at Altoona, and has been general manager since October 1, 1882.

The Southwestern Strike Comes This Way.

The St. Louis Bridge Forces Quit Their Places and Stop all Freight Business.

The Situation at Little Rock and Cairo—The Troubles Detailed Elsewhere.

STILL OUT.

The Strike in the Southwest Has Reached the St. Louis Bridge.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.

ST. LOUIS, March 9.—The most important and serious development of the strike is its extension to the yard and switchmen of the bridge and tunnel company. This move includes all the employees of the company, except engineers and firemen, superintendent of transfer, and three yardmasters, who will make an attempt to transfer as usual.

The significance of this departure can be better understood when it is known that 225 men are employed in handling traffic which passes over the bridge, and it is not possible for four men at each end of the bridge to throw switches and perform other duties incident to the business.

TRAFFIC STOPPED.

ST. LOUIS, March 9.—Freight traffic over the bridge is entirely suspended. All the passenger trains from the east and west have succeeded in starting out this morning, but all have been more or less delayed on account of the difficulty the few men in the yards and depot experience in making up trains.

OFFICE MEN PAID OFF.

ST. LOUIS, March 9.—The managers of the Missouri Pacific road have notified their clerks here that they were relieved from duty indefinitely. The order affects sixty telegraph operators and 200 office clerks.

CLEAR THE DEPOT.

LITTLE ROCK, March 9.—This morning the Iron Mountain railroad managers discharged twenty-five truckers, all the freight clerks and notified the transfer companies to clear the depot of all freight.

ALL QUIET.

CAIRO, March 9.—On the Mountain railroad no freight is being handled here or at Birds Point. Only one switchman remained at work in the yards at Birds Point. Passenger trains carrying mail will be run from here as usual. About eighty men, including the bridge carpenters struck last night.

AN ALL-NIGHT FIRE.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 9.—The company of soldiers guarding the convict camp at Greenwood mines, in Pulaski county, Ky., had a lively time last night. The five miners occupied the adjacent hills, and kept up a continual war all night. Shots were fired into the camp of the convicts, who were badly frightened and the soldiers with guns kept guard until morning, when the miners disappeared.

A NEW SPOT.

TROY, N. Y., March 9.—On the street car lines between Troy, Lansingburg, Cohoes and Waterford the conductors and drivers numbering 300 were ordered on a strike by the Knights of Labor, because the company refused to make a new schedule of wages for extra men or "trippers."

MINERS AT WORK.

PITTSBURGH, March 9.—The miners at the Loyal Hanna works, at Letrobs, Pa., who struck yesterday for an increase of 15 per cent., returned to work to-day, the company conceding the advance.

A SUCCESS.

NEW YORK, March 9.—The strike of the carpenters and joiners has been very successful. Nearly all the employers have granted the demands of the men and the latter have begun work again under average wages of $3.50 per day of nine hours and eight hours on Saturday.

THE STUDEBAKER STRIKE.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., March 9.—Only the office men and a few foremen at the shops of Studebaker Bros., have been at work. The Studebakers held a conference and the Knights of Labor a meeting, but no plans have been made public.

High License.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.

BOSTON, March 9.—The board of police yesterday announced fees for liquor licenses for the coming year. In several classes the prices have been raised from $50 to $200. Dealers generally express great dissatisfaction.

Mrs. O. F. Lape, wife of the master mechanic of the Wabash shops at Springfield, Ill., was in the city yesterday.

The condition of Miss Henriette Nestal is to-day more encouraging and hopes are entertained of her speedy recovery.

Deputy Clerk Dan Souder, of the superior court, has returned from Ohio, where he attended the funeral of his mother.

The team of horses attached to Studebaker's pop wagon ran away on Calhoun street and broke down the sign post in front of the old Darrow house. The horses fell down and were somewhat injured, and the pop was scattered about promiscuously.

The only officers who escape the next county convention are Judges O'Rourke and Hench. The gentlemen do not come up for election until 1888. They are in no way interested in this campaign and a few papers seem to be ignorant of the fact.

The Sengerbund society give their annual masquerade ball at the Princess rink to-night. The masked knights will give a parade in the evening, headed by Prof. Spiegel's Germania band. Col. John George Strodel was out to-day working the pageant up.

The investments of the Pennsylvania railroad company in the securities of auxiliary lines west of Pittsburgh amount at their par value to $132,658,746, and are represented on the books at a cost of $100,092,740. These investments produced in dividends and interest during the year 1885, $1,443,494, which sum was $366,327 in excess of the interest upon the entire funded indebtedness, exclusive of interest on car trust certificates. After all, the western feeders are not so much of an elephant on the parent line as may appear at first glance of the annual report of 1885.

Real Estate Transfers.

Olds Bros., real estate agents, room No. 8, Foster block, report the following recorded real estate transfers:

Perry McKinley to Sophia Brauer, by warranty deed, 40 acres in section 27, Washington township, for $9,000.

James D. Gault to George S. Gault, by warranty deed, undivided interest in 23 acres in section 26, Madison township, for $230.

Harriet N. Rodgers to Henry Fitzgerald, by warranty deed, 110 acres in section 19, Milan township, for $5,500.

The Pony and Dog Paradox.

The second performance of Professor Morris' Equine and Canine Paradox, at the Gloria last night, was witnessed by another large and well pleased audience, who manifested their approval by almost continuous laughter and applause. Some of the acts which these seemingly mind-undowed little animals perform are truly marvelous. For instance, the pantomime act of the clown dog, Major, and the professor is especially clever, and the visit of the dog family, Mr. and Mrs. Benedict, with baby Budget, in full costume, is extraordinarily funny. The prices of admission are only 15 and 25 cents with 25 cents extra for reserved seats.—Kansas City Times.

The Vincennes Murderers in a Way to Hang.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL. VINCENNES, Ind., March 9.—John Lynch has made a confession and although its contents are strictly guarded by the authorities, it is understood he tells in detail all the crimes committed by the gang. In his story of the murder of Anderson Bunch, he says that the poor victim was shockingly tormented for eight hours and finally riddled with seventeen bullets. The confession will convict the entire party of murder in the first degree.

A BAD WRECK.

A Passenger Train Falls Twenty Feet.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL. WASHINGTON, D. C., March 9.—The accommodation train on the Dayton and Ironton railroad was wrecked at Padut Creek yesterday afternoon. This passenger and baggage cars fell down a twenty foot embankment into the creek. John Drake received injuries supposed to be fatal. Mrs. Jane Kullz, of Chillicothe, was badly burned. Four or five other passengers sustained painful but not serious injuries. A broken rail was the cause.

At the Editorial Meeting.

[Auburn Courier.] While at Indianapolis last week attending the democratic editorial convention we were agreeably surprised to hear the universal good opinion prevailing in that body, as to our present member of congress, Hon. Robert Lowry. There was not one dissenting opinion, and coming as they did from men who reside in all parts of the state, who make politics a study, and nearly everyone of whom is of necessity free from any bias in the matter, we consider their opinions not only of great weight, but at the same time very flattering to our district. One editor went so far as to say, "he is to-day Indiana's strongest member of the house." These opinions were unsought, and came out in the way of general conversation in the hotel lobby and reading rooms. They were from men outside of our district who have no favors to ask, and who have neither received official favors at his hands, nor have been refused such favors. One man enthusiastically remarked: "If we had such men as Judge Lowry, we would be still stronger to-day than we are. He is a strong man and a clear headed one." Among the good opinions quoted was that of Governor Hendricks, who a short time before his death made the remark in the hearing of this gentleman, that Judge Lowry was the strongest man with the administration that Indiana had. We were glad to hear these testimonials to the acknowledged ability and fitness of the member from the old Twelfth.

The Black Hussar.

One of the most fashionable and appreciative assemblies that ever graced the interior of the Temple was present last evening to witness the first production of "The Black Hussar" (Der Feldprediger) in this city, by the McCaull Opera company. Musically it is not as simple nor as catchy as the average comic opera, but abounds in numerous absurdities, which were warmly greeted by the large audience. As the principals came on in turn it was seen that the cast was exceptionally good, no one deserving more praise than the other in their respective roles. The pretty chorine girls, attired in their dark uniforms, presented a fine appearance, and should have gone through the military drill, which they do to perfection. "Read the Answer in the Stars," by Messrs. De Wolf Hopper and Boniface and Miss Reynolds, brought down the house. The company did not use their scenery, but sent it ahead for other dates.

Bennett Matlack.

The immense attendance at the Temple last night accounted largely for the rather medium sized audience which greeted the Bennett Matlack company at the Academy. "A Celebrated Case" was put on and the parts were well sustained. Mr. Matlack assumed the role of Jean Renaud, and was ably seconded by Miss Stella Rees as Adrienne. The support was evenly balanced and a very clean and smooth performance was given. Tonight "Hamlet," the masterpiece of Shakespeare and the idol of all tragedians, will be given. Of Mr. Matlack's "Hamlet," the Albany Argus says: "In appearance he fills the character perfectly, and the most capacious critic could find no fault with his really splendid business. He reminds one somewhat of Keene, one of the best of modern Hamlets, and approaches him more closely than any other actor we know of. The Ophelia of Miss Stella Rees was a most charming performance. Her presence and manner are fully in accord with the exigencies of this most sweet and lovable of Shakespeare's heroines."

I had not taken three doses of Athlophores for inflammatory rheumatism before I was better and I have been improving ever since. I am satisfied it is the best remedy for rheumatism there is to be had. G. Lookwood, Millbrook, Ill.

If you want to laugh as you never laughed before, go and see Prof. Morris' dogs and ponies at the Masonic Temple to-morrow night. Admission 15, 25 and 50 cents.

TUESDAY, MARCH 9, 1886.

THE CITY.

Hamlet to-night.
Book beer is blooming.
This is styled Shrove Tuesday.
Paradox to-morrow night, at the Temple.
The city council meets to-night in regular session.
New lettuce, radishes and onions are in the market.
Sheriff Nelson is posting the township election notices.
The child of Mr. and Mrs. Grosvenor is ill with lung fever.
Frank Cosgrove is west in the interest of his patent right business.
Miss Ella Richards, of Fort Wayne, is visiting friends in Lafayette.
The semi-annual session of the grand lodge I. O. O. F. occurs in May.
J. S. Riechart, of Rome City, is working for a Fort Wayne wholesale house.
Rev. M. H. Paynter concluded his Bible readings at Warsaw on Sunday night.
Mrs. T. E. Aborn left yesterday to spend a few days with relatives at Elletts Green, Ind.
G. E. Mayfield, of this city, is registered as a Florida tourist by the Indianapolis Times.
Mrs. J. D. Leighty, of St. Joe, DeKalb county, is in the city, the guest of her sister, Mrs. E. S. Philley.
Miss Stella Rees, with Bennett Matlack, has the reputation of being one of the best leading women on the stage.
Decoration day will this year fall upon Sunday. It is to be hoped the day will be more generally observed than heretofore.
E. D. Compton was injured on the Pittsburg road at Valparaiso, yesterday, and J. D. North had his arm pinched at Van Wert.
A brakeman named Buseker, while making a coupling on the Nickel Plate yesterday, had the fingers of his right hand pinched off.
Arnest Breimeyer and Fred Bandt received the contract for the new brick house of August Becker, on Williams street. The structure will cost $4,000.
The will of John George Kaiser, late of Madison township, was offered for probate. He gives his 145 acre farm to his wife. His son is named as executor.
The cottage meeting of the R. R. Y. M. C. A. will be held this evening at the residence of J. S. Brittingham, 83 Madison street. A cordial invitation is extended to all.
John Ross, ticket agent of the Pittsburg and Richmond roads, went to-day to Geneva to make arrangements with about twenty farmers to go to California this spring.
Miss Sarah E. Fordney, sister of G. M. Fordney, died at the residence of her brother, 197 Montgomery street, yesterday morning at 8 o'clock. The remains were taken to Urbana, Ohio, this afternoon.
Professor Morris' dogs are taken about the city in a carriage, and enjoy the situation. They are quartered at the "bus baru" and Mr. Abe Barnett looks daggers in the direction of the howling kennel.
Col. C. E. Briant, of Huntington, celebrated the anniversary of his birth the other day and his workmen gave him a handsome upholstered arm chair. The colonel's comrades in Fort Wayne will like to hear of this.
C. D. Meigs, of Indianapolis, will give a free lecture to Sunday school workers, Tuesday evening, March 16, in the First Presbyterian church. Subject: "How to Fail and How to Succeed in Sunday School Work." Sunday school teachers should be sure to hear this.
Indiana consistory, S. P. R. S., in the valley of Indianapolis, will hold its annual convention on the 23d, 24th and 25th of the present month. Everything indicates a large class and a most enjoyable reunion. The attendance will probably exceed that of any other meeting.
"Several days ago Eli Groenfelder missed $400 worth of diamonds from his house. He commenced a search for the valuable property and yesterday found them in an ash barrel at his residence, considerably damaged by heat. Eli now scratches his head every hour in the day and wonders how his diamonds got in that dirty old barrel," says the Logansport Pharos of a former Fort Wayne citizen.
"Roy," the Fort Wayne correspondent of the Warsaw Indianan-Republican, pays Judge Robert Lowry, the congressman from the Fort Wayne district, the following compliment: "He (Lowry) is a man of marked ability, and has always been at his post upon the floor of the house, watching the interests of his constituency and attending to his duties." Judge Lowry is a hard working congressman and a man of great ability. Such men wield influence in congress and ought to be kept there, adds the Valparaiso Messenger.

Mr. Clarence Cook will not sell the World.
Hamlet at the Academy to-night, at popular prices.
Mr. and Mrs. B. O. Ross are visiting friends at Grand Rapids.
John Moring had three fingers cut off at the spoke factory yesterday.
Hon. Isaac Jenkinson, of the Richmond Palladium, was in the city last evening.
Rev. D. S. Kennedy has accepted the call to the pastorate of the Third Presbyterian church.
The new Grand Rapids and Indiana shanty at the south yard, Grand Rapids, will cost $25,000.
"A Celebrated Case," was repeated at the Academy this afternoon. It will be given again later in the week.
C. B. Stuart, of Lafayette, attorney for the Wabash, St. Louis and Pacific railway company, is at the Aveline.
Mr. Newton Burwell, formerly of Fort Wayne, delivered a temperance lecture at Huntington last night. Mr. Burwell resides at Bluffton.
To-night Hamlet will be presented at the Academy by the Bennett Matlack combination. Mr. Matlack appears as Hamlet and Miss Stella Rees as Ophelia.
Edward Ingersoll, secretary of the national association of the R. R. Y. M. C. A., is in the city shaking hands with his many friends. He will remain here until to-morrow night.
Wayne Lodge No. 14, I. O. O. F., to-day sold their lot at the corner of Barry and Harrison streets, to Hon. L. M. Nide, for $6,000. This lodge lately bought a lot on Calhoun street.
D. A. Waterman, auditor of the Central railroad, of Detroit, Rev. E. L. Stetson, of Logansport, and Rev. A. Blackburn, of Lafayette, were here this morning in council with S. A. Northrop, of this city, regarding the Baptist ministers' home.
C. D. Meigs, of Indianapolis, will give a free lecture to Sunday school workers on Tuesday evening, March 16th, in the First Presbyterian church; subject: "How to Fail and How to Succeed in Sunday School Work." Sunday school teachers should be sure to hear this.
Lovers of the "legitimate" will have plenty of opportunity to ponder to their tastes at the Academy during the next two weeks. Beginning with "A Celebrated Case" to-night, the next nineteen performances will consist of the heaviest melo-dramas and Shakespearian tragedies.
Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Daniels entertained the Young People's society, of the Christian church, very pleasantly last night. A feature of the occasion was the violin selections of Miss Linnie Rich. The society meets again Friday evening at the residence of Rev. Blade, 87 West Jefferson street.
Hon. M. P. Brady will lecture on the "Irish Question" at Library hall St. Patrick's evening. The gentleman is one of the most eloquent talkers in the west and the Chicago papers speak of his coming here in very complimentary terms. The tickets are going fast and seats will be scarce towards the last.
The Third Presbyterian church people are a happy set. Their session has been notified of Rev. D. S. Kennedy's acceptance of their call, heaving them the preference over five other invitations. They expect him to begin work with them about April 18. A letter from him to the congregation will be read on Wednesday evening.
A number of Knights of Pythias of this city have received an invitation to attend the dedication of the new Pythian Temple at Richmond on Thursday, March 18th. The program as arranged for the occasion will include a street parade by all Knights, followed by the dedication ceremonies. In the evening a grand banquet will take place.
Solon Humphreys and Thomas E. Tutt, receivers of the Wabash railroad, have filed a report of the operations of their trust for the three months ending February 28, in the federal court, which shows: Balance on hand December 1, $156,359.90; receipts, $4,769,267.71; total, $4,925,627.61; expenses, $482,203.43; balance on hand, $389,187.18.
The Washington dispatches have stated that the bill to increase the salaries of Judge Woods and other federal court judges to $5,000 a year failed to pass the house judiciary committee. Representative Collins, of Boston, a member of the committee, has written to John E. Lamb that the bill did pass the committee and will undoubtedly pass the house and become a law, as it has already passed the senate.
Prospects for a heavy business over the Wabash road have been somewhat brightened by the strikes on the Jay Gould lines of late. Jay Gould, with his southwestern system and the Wabash, has been diverting the bulk of the east-bound grain shipments from Nebraska and Kansas points from the regular pool lines by having it from Hannibal and St. Louis to Toledo, where it will be ready to move with the opening of navigation. But the strike, it is thought, will more or less interfere with his program. General Master Mechanic Barnes says that the strike will not spread to the Wabash as affairs on that line are satisfactory to the Knights of Labor.

Miss [Eva] Harter, of Wabash, well known in this city, attended the opera last evening.
John G. Kaiser, a well known farmer in Madison township, died Saturday and will be buried to-morrow.
There will be services at the Second Presbyterian church this evening at 7:30 o'clock. You are cordially invited.
Mr. C. H. Miller has just received from Texas four dozen young quail, which he will set free as soon as the weather will permit.
Mr. E. H. Hunsacker received to-day through C. H. Miller the handsomest gun ever brought to this city. It is of the hammerless pattern, and is valued at $180.
The billiard contest for the championship medal, between the present holder, Mr. E. H. Hunsacker, and Mr. Dink Trentman, will take place at the Home to-morrow evening.
The Pionette club gave its final reception at the Fox parlors last night. Mr. P. J. Fallon managed the affair and it was very pleasant. A nice supper was served at midnight.
To-morrow being Ash Wednesday, there will be services at Trinity Episcopal church as follows: At 10:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Also on Friday evening, at 7:30. All cordially invited.
The indications for the lower lake region, as reported by the weather bureau at Washington to THE SENTINEL, are as follows: Colder westerly winds, slight snows, followed by fair weather.
Hon. E. H. Henderson, chairman of the democratic state central committee, was in the city last evening to urge careful attention to the township elections and the necessity of nominating good candidates.
Judge Haynes called the celebrated Little River ditch case this morning and the trial was resumed with Ditch Commissioner Shouff on the witness stand. The costs in this case amount to some $5,000 and if the drain is not established the petitioners will have to pay this sum or all the costs and they are likely to be much more than the estimate above. The Wabash Railroad company and many Huntington county people have withdrawn objections to the Little River ditch, but the case progresses against the others.
Mr. W. W. Rockhill received a telegram from St. Louis, last night, admitting the Northern Indiana Fair association to the great western circuit. All the other associations had already voted in favor of Fort Wayne and the consent of St. Louis made the matter unanimous. This places the Fair association on a footing with the great cities of the west, and as it follows Columbus and Toledo it will have the finest stock exhibition and the best field of horses ever seen in Indiana. The Fort Wayne fair occurs from September 14 to 17, 1886.
On yesterday an unknown negro broke into the residence of a farmer named Reed, near the Bootjack and carried away a number of articles of little value. From there he was next heard of at the residence of George Hite, who lives about two miles east of Muncie. He gained admission to the house by raising a window and without alarming the family succeeded in gathering up $58 in cash and some valuable articles. He was seen to board a Pittsburg train west bound, and before to-morrow it is thought he will be safely lodged in jail at Fort Wayne.

NOW FOR WORK.

The Twelfth Congressional Committee Called for Friday Next.

Col. C. A. Zollinger has called a meeting of the Twelfth district democratic congressional committee for next Friday morning at 10 o'clock. The committee will meet in this city and besides Colonel Zollinger, consists of six members—the chairman of the central committee of the various counties of the district. The committee will select the date and name the place for holding the next district convention. The sentiment is that delegates for the congressional convention be selected at a separate election in order to avoid all alliances or combinations that might operate against some of the aspirants for the place of honor.

HANDSOME GIFTS.

John Rodgers Remembers the Catholic Church in His Will.

John Rodgers, an old resident, died at the home of Augustus Fox, near Leo, this county, some time ago. His last will was filed this morning. He leaves $1,000 each to his son and daughter, Patrick and Johanna, who live in Iowa. He leaves his grand-children $500 each and then bequeaths $200 towards rebuilding the St. Mary's Catholic church and the rest of his estate he leaves in equal part to Rt. Rev. Bishop Dwenger for the orphan asylum to be erected here and the mission of the Immaculate Virgin for the protection of children, organized in New York, and of which John O. Drumgoole is the leader. The gifts amount to $2,500 for each cause.

ACT IV.

Manager John A. McCaull in the Courts with Syd. Rosenfeld over the Black Hussar.

While the elite and fashionable were last night witnessing the presentation of Mollicker's "Black Hussar" by the John A. McCaull opera comique company, little did they dream that Col. McCaull was in the Philadelphia courts, striving to prevent Sydney Rosenfeld from obtaining an injunction to stay its further production. Rosenfeld, the musical composer, and Herman Nunnemacher, of Milwaukee, have been harassing the McCaull company, and they sent telegrams to Manager Simonsen, asking him to refuse the opera a date at the Temple. No attention was paid to the matter, and firing of the abuse, Mr. McCaull went into court yesterday and testified that Rosenfeld had been in his employ at different times, the last time from about the middle of October, 1884, until the last week in April, 1885. Rosenfeld was in the employ of McCaull up to within three days of the production of the "Black Hussar," which was translated by him for the witness in the line of his employment. It was first produced on the 1st of May at Wallack's theatre, in New York, and it ran one hundred and four nights. The company went to Cincinnati, after that to Milwaukee and then to Chicago, and Rosenfeld undertook to stop the production by injunction in these cities, as he had done in New York, and failed. He claimed the right to everything in connection with the "Black Hussar." After a series of harassments Mr. Rosenfeld went to the witness and asked him for $500 to get his "Mikado" company out of town. The witness said he would give him $500 in consideration of his withdrawing all claim to the "Black Hussar." Mr. Rosenfeld said he would do it with the consent of Mr. Nunnemacher. After Mr. Rosenfeld had seen Mr. Nunnemacher the former came to the witness and said: "Will you give me $800?" and the witness replied: "I will not give you six hundred cents." Mr. Rosenfeld then replied: "We will follow you wherever you go and bring suit against you." Since then he had sent telegrams to different cities stating that he would hold the managers responsible if they permitted the "Black Hussar" to be played. The judge held Rosenfeld for malicious prosecution, and he was remanded late last night for trial before a jury.

Bird Seed.

This seed is put up by me in the proper proportions; two thirds Sicily canary and one third German summer rape. Canaries should not be fed on hemp or millet seed, or any other cheap stuff. It will not agree with them.

THE EVE

Of the Season of Fast and Prayerful Reflection.

Ash Wednesday, the first of the forty days' fast, comes to-morrow and the society people will gladly avail themselves of the rest which custom enforces upon the gay world, and though a strict observance of the Lenten season is not observed by all churches, people generally welcome it with a sigh of relief and regard it as a preparation for the great anniversary of Christ's crucifixion and resurrection and a tribute to the Savior's fast of forty days. The Catholic church holds vespers services twice a week and the Episcopal and Lutheran denominations observe lent as a penitential season. Lent is preceded in most Christian countries by disipation and high carnival, even in Fort Wayne we will have a taste of the revelry to-night. To-morrow the people who make merry to-night will don monastic habiliments and look as serene and solemn as a sage. So runs life and the story of the frailty of mankind.

"That tired feeling" from which you suffer so much, particularly in the morning, is entirely thrown off by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

To the People Now on Earth.

Professor Morris will give one of the grandest exhibitions with trained dogs and ponies ever seen in America at Masonic Temple Wednesday and Thursday nights, March 10 and 11. Admission 15, 25 and 50 cents. Fun for everybody. Reserve your seats without extra charge, fifty cents, and avoid the rush at the box office. It
